SHE WAS HUMILIATED

Her Pimply Face Bespoke Bad Blood
—Blood Wine Gave Her a Beautiful Complexion.

A pimply face and blotched neck and arms are enough to embarrass any woman who cares a straw about her appearance, yet few realize that Blood Wine is a positive and quick cure for these disfigurements. It takes off pimples, blotches, unsightly sores, and makes the skin smooth, clear, and velvety.

This is the testimony of Miss Mary Young Clark of Lawrence, Mass.:
"For years I suffered humiliation from the condition of my face, which never seemed free from little boils and pimples. I tried all kinds of washes and ointments with no relief; took every sort of medicine which advertised to cure such eruptions, but could derive no benefit from them. Physicians said my blood was out of order, but their prescriptions only drove a still further eruption out. I did not know what to do with myself, but a friend told me of Blood Wine and I decided to try it. The effect of this wonderful medicine was immediate. The pimples began to disappear and my skin rapidly assumed its normal condition."

"My general health was better from the beginning, and after I had taken the sixth bottle I was cured. I cannot praise Blood Wine too highly. It is the best blood purifier I ever saw and I shall never be without it."

The clean, wholesome skin of a beautiful woman is always the result of pure blood.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Celebrated in an Elaborate Manner by Mr. Schutte—Municipal Government in Adamston a Success.

Special Correspondence.

Adamston, W. Va., March 11.—Municipal government has proven a success here up to the present so far as good conduct and quietude is concerned. This is shown by the records of the police department. Sergeant Laborn Sayers has been in office for a month and yet it has not been his privilege to make a single arrest. This speaks well for the town, although from the standpoint of finances it does not look so good. It is evident that the necessary funds to run the town must come from other sources, but it is well that this is true, and no one is objecting to it.

Gottlieb Schutte, the well known merchant and citizen, celebrated the 70th anniversary of his birth to-day. He entertained many friends at dinner, which was one of the most sumptuous ever spread. Mr. Schutte is a clever hose and all who were there wish him many happy returns of the day.

Sherman Kirkpatrick is preparing to erect himself a nice dwelling on Church street, work on which will begin in the near future.

TRADES ASSEMBLY WILL MEET.

The Trades and Labor Council will meet as usual at 8 o'clock to-night in its headquarters in the Reed hall, on West Pike street. There has been considerable revival of interest lately, and especially since J. H. Nightingale, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, has been spending a portion of his time among the members of the various unions that are represented in the council. On this account it is expected the attendance will be good to-night.

J. W. MARSHALL DYING.

News reaches here from Shreveport, La., conveying the information that J. W. Marshall, formerly of this city, is in a dying condition there. Mr. Marshall is well remembered here, being a son-in-law of W. P. Camp, of this city. A few years ago he went south for the benefit of his health.

POLICE COURT.

Three plain drinks were given trial by Mayor Crile in police court Friday morning. For an oddity two of them had sufficient money to bail themselves out into the cold world and after settling up with the city they were turned loose. The third man was not so fortunate, or unfortunate as the case may have been with him, and the mayor sentenced him to three days' imprisonment.

SMITH SENDS FRUIT.

E. G. Smith, an attorney of Clarksburg, who is wintering at Mt. Tacoma, Florida, sent Clerk W. B. Mathews, of the supreme court a box of fine Florida fruit, says the Charleston Mail.

BURIED AT BRIDGEPORT.

The remains of Sylvester Wright were taken from his home on Water street Friday morning at 8 o'clock overland to Bridgeport, where the funeral took place from the First Baptist church, Rev. R. B. McDaniel, of this city, officiating. The interment was in the cemetery there.

PRESIDENT BRADY VISITS CITY.

Charles M. Brady, of Washington, Pa., president of the Hazel-Atlas Company, is here looking after the company's plant. Mr. Brady had recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe in the interest of the company.

FATHER REYNOLDS RETURNS.

Rev. John A. Reynolds, priest of the church of the Immaculate Conception, has returned from a visit of several days at his former home near Wheeling and also a short and pleasant stay with Bishop P. J. Donahue, at Wheeling.

BISHOP DONAHUE HERE.

Bishop P. J. Donahue, of the Wheeling diocese of the Catholic church, arrived in the city Thursday night from Wheeling. He will spend a few days here looking after the church and the estate of the late Father O'Connor, of which he is the executor. He will likely fill the Weston pulpit Sunday, Father George Toner not having fully recovered from illness.

DEEDS RECORDED.

Deeds have been recorded as follows: Gideon S. Nuzum to Hugh Lynn, 217 acres of surface and 2 acres of coal, Clay district.
Ruhl-Koblegard Company to General Distributing Company, 4 lots, Glen Elk.
T. D. Steel to Erma Steel, 1 lot Bristol.
Lloyd Washburn to John M. Thrash, 2 lots, Good Hope.

DEAL CLOSED

BY WHICH HIGHLAND BROS. & GORE BECAME OWNERS OF A LEADING SHOE STORE.

Purchase Sine, Crawford & Company's Shoe Store, on Third street, and Are Now in Possession of It—Frank Highland Will Manage It.

Sine, Crawford & Company is succeeded in the shoe business at No. 128 Third street, by Highland Bros. & Gore. The new firm is composed of Frank E. Highland, Cecil B. Highland and Howard M. Gore.

The deal has been on for some time but was just closed Thursday evening and the new proprietors took charge at once.

This store was purchased over two years ago by J. E. R. Sine from W. M. Osburn, the veteran shoe man, and the large business transferred to Mr. Sine by Mr. Osburn at that time has been greatly increased since, until now it is one of the largest retail shoe and hat businesses in central West Virginia. This large expansion has been brought about with the able assistance of Paul W. Crawford and Frank E. Highland who have been associated with Mr. Sine about one year.

Frank Highland has been connected with the shoe business in Clarksburg for about 15 years and is well known to the shoe trade. He will give the business his entire attention which is sufficient assurance that the store will continue to be a popular and paying one. Mr. Sine will remain with the new firm until they can secure a first-class shoe clerk, after which he will take a much needed rest and hopes to soon recover his usual good health which has become impaired. He expects to spend the spring and summer at Webster Springs, this State, taking his family there as soon as school closes. He will make this city his future home, at least.

He has no further plans for the future. Mr. Crawford will return to Pittsburg in the near future but as yet he has no definite plans. Mr. Crawford's former home was Scio, Ohio, but he came here from Pittsburg, where he had been with the W. W. Laird Co., the leading shoe firm of that city.

The new firm takes hold of the business under most favorable circumstances and as the members of the new firm are three of our most successful young business men, there is nothing in the way of still greater expansion.

ENDORSES TELEGRAM

Well Known Clarksburger Spending the Winter in Denver Writes His Appreciation of This Paper and Interestingly of Climate There.

Editors of Daily Telegram:—
The Telegram is a very welcome visitor to me. I endorse the Telegram as a newspaper. The only objection I have to it is its politics, but I do not care for that; it is the news I want from my old home.

I have been well and hearty ever since I came to Denver; I came here in bad health. It would make any one feel good to enjoy the pleasant weather we have had here this winter so far. It makes one shudder to read the weather report for February from my old home, as published in the Telegram of Mar. 3. I am glad I changed my location for the winter. I watched the thermometer closely all through February. It averaged 50, but sometimes went as high as 80 in the shade, but generally stood at 32 at night.

Grass and buds have started nicely. We had about one-half inch fall of snow in February and never more than two inches at any time during the winter and that melted off the next day, when the sun shone on it. There has been no rain since I came here five months ago that any more than dampened one's clothes.

Success to the Telegram.

Morgantown, W. Va., March 11.—Daniel Hitchcock, an assistant in the department of agriculture at the West Virginia University, mysteriously disappeared on last Friday night.
